Bribery Charge Denied By Ex-Union Organizer

Miller's Wish To Be Heard Boomerangs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A former union organizer who had demanded to be heard by the Senate rackets probes got his wish today. It boomeranged into charges he once took a bribe from an employer.

He was also hit with an affidavit saying he had once inquired how much it would be worth to some employers if he refrained from importing some labor goons, muscle men and trigger men.

The witness, Marshall M. Miller of New York, former administrative assistant and organizer in the Upholsters International Union, denied the charges bitterly.

He protested that the Rackets Investigating Committee was giving him a dirty deal by springing new accusations, when he had come here to answer old ones.

Miller's case, which jumped back and forth between New York and western Michigan, came up after the committee had spent several more hours on the operation of Teamsters Union affairs in New York City.

Ringers Voted In Election

In the Teamsters phase, the committee took testimony that a clerk, a carpenter and a drunk in a bar were pressed into service as union officials long enough to help elect a pal of James R. Hoffa as head of the Teamster council in New York City.

Miller's case developed in a rather odd way.

On Aug. 2, the committee heard from John McNiff, secretary of the Assn. of Catholic Trade Unionists, that Miller had been fired from a union job for making under-the-table deals with employers to the detriment of the union members he was supposed to represent.

The next day Miller was fired from his job as a consultant to the New York State Legislative Committee on Labor and Industrial Conditions. He demanded to be allowed to tell his denial to the U.S. Senate committee, and it agreed to hear him.

When Miller showed up here today, he withdrew his demand, then reinstated it after the committee announced it would proceed with the taking of information from others about him.

Accused Of Taking $200

Then the committee placed in evidence:

1. A letter from David Scharaga, head of the Scharco Mfg. Co. of New York, saying that Miller in late 1949 solicited $600 as the price of a union contract covering his employees. The letter said Miller suggested the $600 be taken from retroactive pay due the workers. It also said Miller eventually accepted $200, and the company let the $600 go to the workers as scheduled.

2. A statement from Arthur G. McDowell of the Upholsters International Union saying Miller had been confronted with Scharaga's charges, and that he was fired pronto by the union when he "would not deny" them.

Miller swore today that this was not true at all, that he had been fired by the union because of a row over what he described as an underworld dictatorship of the union's affairs.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 14 (AP)—Swiss and French police have launched a joint search for a case containing 140,000 Swiss francs—about $33,000—worth of gold which is missing from an air shipment from Paris to Geneva.

Police Clubs Crush Lodz Transit Strike

LODZ, Poland, Aug. 14 (AP)—Poland's Communist government today rejected the demands of 10,000 transport workers for higher pay and crushed their crippling streetcar strike with clubs.

Militiamen and police got striking workers from their homes and back to work after taking over the car barns in this city of 700,000—Poland's second largest. The car barns had been barricaded since Monday by strikers.

Navy Will Cut Civilian Work Force 18,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Navy said today it will eliminate 18,000 civilian jobs, most of them by the end of October. It was the Navy's second major economy order in as many weeks.

Last week the Navy revealed that 31 ships, including the battleship Iowa, will be put in mothballs by the end of the year. And it said 19 additional vessels, not identified, also are marked for eventual withdrawal from the active fleet.

Today's announcement said the cutback in civilian jobs will amount to 4.6 per cent of the Navy's current civilian work force of 389,717. The Navy said part of the reduction will be accomplished by not replacing workers who die, retire or quit.

Savings of an estimated six million dollars a month will result, the Navy said.

This and other recent economy measures announced by the various services stem from an Eisenhower administration decision to hold defense spending below $38 billion dollars in the fiscal year which began July 1.

The Defense Department disclosed on Monday this breakdown of the $38 billion among the services: Air Force, $17,900,000,000; Navy, $10,400,000,000; Army, $8,950,000,000. The rest of the money will be spent by the department for its own and interservice activities.

"Hard To Believe" Story Is Defended By Jet Pilot

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Lt. David Steeves said today if people find it hard to believe he survived 54 days in the High Sierra after a jet plane crash, "then it is just that much better story." This was the 23-year-old Air Force pilot's reaction to a decision by the Saturday Evening Post to cancel a scheduled article on his disappearance. The Post said it found discrepancies in Steeves' story.

"I told the story as it happened," Steeves said. "People can believe or disbelieve it as they choose. If the story is so miraculous they don't believe it, then it is just that much better story." Steeves is now temporarily assigned to Bolling Air Force Base here, while the Air Force makes

Action Taken For Expulsion Of Americans

Relations Between Washington, Arab Nation At New Low

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Syria's fiery ambassador, Dr. Farid Zeineddine, and another Syrian Embassy official, were ousted from their posts by the United States today.

The State Department's action in labeling them "persona non grata"—unwelcome—was in frank retaliation for Syria's expulsion of three American diplomats in Damascus and for Syrian accusations of a U.S. plot.

It does not spell a break in diplomatic relations. But it does mean that United States-Syria relations, worsening over the past two years, are at a new low point.

U. S. Envoy Won't Return

The state of affairs was emphasized by a State Department announcement that the American ambassador to Syria, James S. Moose Jr., "is not returning to Syria." Moose came home two weeks ago for reassignment.

Zeineddine, as it happened, was in Damascus when he was labeled unwelcome. The news of the ouster of the 50-year-old diplomat, who often acts as spokesman for the Arabs in Washington, was handed his embassy's counselor, Dr. Mamun Hamui.

Hamui, ranking officer in the absence of Zeineddine, was obviously nervous during his State Department call on William Rountree, assistant secretary for Middle East affairs. After 18 minutes with Rountree Hamui emerged to be met by newsmen.

Zeineddine In U. N.

Clinging with both hands to a white envelope, which apparently contained Zeineddine's dismissal, Hamui declined all comment. About the only thing he confirmed was that his chief was in Damascus at present.

Zeineddine also is Syria's chief delegate to the United Nations. This means he may come back to the United States as U.N. delegates unless the United States specifically demands his ouster from that post also.

The other unwelcome official, Dr. Yassin Zakaria, second secretary, was given until Friday to leave Washington.

Red Boss Ends German Visit With Warning

MOSCOW, Aug. 14 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev returned from his tour in Communist East Germany today with a blunt warning for West Germans.

If they seek to unite Germany by force, the Soviet Communist chief said, they will be crushed by Communist-bloc nations.

Khrushchev said Soviet allies in the Warsaw Pact are prepared to deal with any attempt by West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to "launch an adventure."

He said both Germans and Russians lost millions of people in the last war and could not easily forget it.

"One cannot disregard human feelings," Khrushchev said, "but one must correctly understand and evaluate events in order to prevent a recurrence of the bitter yesterday."

He told a mass meeting in Lenin Stadium the Soviet Union must develop peaceful and friendly relations with the Germans. He was applauded when he said Russia "fully shares and supports" East German policies for reunification.

Khrushchev's visit to East Germany drew sharp criticism from the U.S. State Department in Washington.

Press officer Lincoln White accused him of "crude attempts" to influence the outcome of West German elections in September. German reunification is a major issue in the campaign.

Key Committee Chairman Balks At Rights Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee made it plain today that he's not disposed to help get a civil rights bill at this session of Congress.

"I am inclined to pursue any course which might result in no bill," declared Rep. Howard Worth Smith (D-Va.). "Do I make myself clear?"

None of the reporters talking with the 74-year-old Rules chairman seemed to need further elucidation.

Smith's sharply divided committee holds the key to when and how the House will have a chance to break the present stalemate on civil rights legislation.

And the adjournment of Congress depends to a large degree on settling the issue. Senate Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex.) said Monday Congress could quit at the end of next week if it could get a civil rights bill.

House Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.) has announced his willingness to stay in Washington until Christmas if necessary to get an effective bill.

There was also renewed talk of a special session of Congress in November to work on civil rights.

So the pressure on Smith, a long-time fighter against civil rights legislation, is bound to build up rapidly.

After seeing reporters Smith had a conference with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) and was asked by Rayburn to set a date for a committee hearing to break the deadlock.

"I haven't decided yet what to do about it," Smith told newsmen later. "I'm just going to consider it—to see if it's worth while. I don't want to do a futile thing if there's not going to be any result—if it doesn't amount to anything."

Then he went into huddle with key Southern House members to map strategy. "We don't like the idea of a civil rights bill," Smith said in explanation of the meeting.

Humphrey Returns To National Steel

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14 (AP)—George M. Humphrey, industrialist, banker and former secretary of the Treasury, today was named board chairman of National Steel Corp., the nation's sixth largest producer.

Humphrey, 67, returns to the firm he helped found in 1929. He was a board member and chairman of National Steel's executive committee before he joined President Eisenhower's Cabinet in 1953.

Humphrey's appointment was rumored for some time. A man of medium stature, trim build and sharp eyes his main job with National Steel will be in connection with financial and policy matters.

Defiant Americans Depart For Peiping

MOSCOW, Aug. 14 (AP)—Forty-one of 1,000 Russians gathered around young Americans departed for Peiping today despite a government not to go.

All but one left aboard a Trans-Siberian express train, which will travel six days in Soviet territory before crossing the line into China.

A leader of the group, Jake Rosen of New York, said he would go to Kiev first, where he would attend another Communist-sponsored youth meeting, and then travel to Peiping.

As the train pulled out of Yaroslavl Station, Dan O'Connell of Chicago said, "We have six days aboard before we reach the Red Chinese border and there are some here who may change their minds and get off."

The U.S. State Department warned them yesterday their passports would be taken away when they returned to the United States from Red China. It said the group was aiding Communist propaganda.

"Quasi State Of War"

The U.S. government does not recognize the Peiping government and considers itself in a "quasi state of war" with Communist China, Undersecretary Christian Herter said.

A group of 46 held an anxious 2½-hour meeting early in the day to discuss the warning. Forty-one decided to make the trip anyway. Two withdrew. Two others said they might try later to catch up by plane.

Several of the youths appeared at the station still smarting from the strong language of Herter's letter. Some reacted defiantly. Others said it was their right as Americans to travel wherever they liked.

Flowers Thrown By Russians

Most of the Americans frolicked at the station. Guy Carawan and Peggy Seeger of Los Angeles sang "America the Beautiful." A crowd

House Committee Clears Ross But Criticizes Army

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Army was severely criticized by the House Military Operations subcommittee today for "loose and irresponsible" procurement practices in the clothing field.

A group of companies controlled by Herman D. Wynn of Knoxville, Tenn., also came under fire for contributing, the subcommittee said, to many problems in clothing procurement.

Wynn is the brother-in-law of Robert Tripp Ross, who resigned last Feb. 14 as assistant secretary for legislative and public affairs in the Defense Department.

Th. House group exonerated Ross of any "wrongful acts" in connection with military contracts let to family firms while he was at the Pentagon. It lectured him,

Extra Session Warning Fails To Halt Slash

House Group Axes Recommendation By $809,650,000

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower warned today of a possible special session of Congress if foreign aid funds are slashed—but a House subcommittee forthwith axed them by $809,650,000.

An Appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. Passman (D-La.) recommended $2,524,760,000 in new aid money and $667,050,000 in carryover funds from previous carryover appropriations for a total of $3,191,810,000.

Eisenhower only four hours earlier had called a surprise news conference to ask for $3,367,083,000 in new funds.

At that, he noted, he would be getting half a billion dollars less than he originally had requested last January.

The news conference was called after the House passed and sent to Eisenhower a bill authorizing a $3,367,000,000 program.

Bill Merely Sets Ceilings

This measure, which Eisenhower signed, merely sets ceilings for foreign aid spending. The actual appropriations will be voted later—and it was to stave off cuts in these that Eisenhower made his special appeal.

Action of the 12-member House subcommittee is subject to expected approval of the full 50-member committee tomorrow.

The House plans to take up the bill tomorrow.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told newsmen it was "unwise" for Eisenhower to make his appeal today while the Appropriations subcommittee was still working on the money bill.

Congress, Rayburn said, "will give Mr. Eisenhower all he needs for foreign aid," if not all he wants.

Eisenhower told the newsmen he had signed the authorization bill with prayerful hope the program it envisioned would be adequate.

Not "Threat," Ike Says

The President went on to announce that he also had just signed a request that Congress, when it comes to voting actual funds for the program, will give him the full amount authorized.

At that, he noted, he would get half a billion dollars less than he originally asked.

Asked flatly if he would call Congress into special session if the full amount isn't forthcoming, Eisenhower replied: "This is what I am going to do. I am going to watch every single day what is developing in the world and whenever for lack of money the United States' interests become placed in jeopardy, at that moment I would have no recourse except to call a special session."

A little later he commented: "I don't think that any of you ought to interpret anything I say in terms of a threat of any kind. I never make them. It's a matter of what the necessities of the moment demand."

Flu Epidemic Possible After Schools Reopen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A Public Health Service official said today there is a possibility the reopening of schools next month may bring on an epidemic of Asiatic flu.

Dr. Carl Dauer added that since this is no certainty, "I don't think we would be justified in not reopening the schools."

He said, however, that the return to classes could hasten an epidemic, if, in fact, one does occur.

Surgeon Gen. Leroy Burney said earlier today there is "a definite probability that a large-scale epidemic will occur this fall or winter."

Burney said there is a possibility—although not now foreseen—that the mild disease so far experienced might change to a more virulent one.

Both men addressed representatives of 13 national professional and voluntary health organizations summoned here by the PHS to discuss plans for dealing with any outbreak.

AFL-CIO Raps Ike's Economic Policies

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—The AFL-CIO lashed out at the Eisenhower administration's economic policies today with a statement calling them "confused," "self-defeating" and "blundering."

The executive council of the 15 million member labor organization approved a three-page statement that contended the hike in mortgage, loan and bond interest rates is "designed to hasten a recession."

The statement said that this year's industrial output dropped about 3 per cent while production facilities grew and prices rose.

"In the face of this crisis," it added, "leaders of the administration and of business are blundering dangerously."

What the country needs, the council said, is steady economic growth. It added:

"Unfortunately, the country is paying dearly for the confused and self-defeating policies which the federal administration is pursuing. First, it has heaped fast tax writeoffs and other unwarranted benefits on big business and these have helped accelerate the price inflating investment boom.

"Second, with the avowed purpose of curbing prices, a blundering high interest policy has been unleashed. But it hardly restrains the corporate giants whose spending, in the main, is internally financed. But it does benefit the banks. The net profit of commercial banks rose 15 per cent in the first six months of this year over the high level that already existed a year ago."

The council took the position that the "tight-money-high interest" policy is curtailing business and checking sales.

Of labor's place in the picture, the council said that, while hourly wages of factory production and maintenance workers went up about 20 per cent between January 1953 and May 1957 "unit labor costs rose only about 2 per cent" because of a "rapid rise in manpower output."

A unit labor cost is the cost of producing one piece of merchandise—such as one auto or one TV set.

"Rising productivity and high profits," the AFL-CIO said, "can absorb wage increases without price rises in most basic industries."

Manhole Covers Not Sold For Beer

HAZEL PARK, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP)—Oliver Godsey, superintendent of public works in this Detroit suburb, says no manhole covers scheduled for use on a street paving project went for beer money.

Godsey said City Councilman Zigmund Niparko was mistaken in a report Monday night that workmen had appropriated cast iron covers, sold them for scrap and split the money for beer.

Godsey said all covers and catch basins on the job are accounted for and the contractor is in the clear.

Negro Family's Home Stoned

LEVITTOWN, Pa., Aug. 14 (AP)—Police today kept a watchful eye on the recently purchased home of the only Negro family in this planned community of 60,000, where a flurry of stones last night smashed windows.

A half dozen stones shattered picture windows in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers Jr., who moved into the ranch-type house last Sunday with their three children, ranging in age from 1 month to 4 years.

Police were rushed to the Myers house to dispel the crowd of 200 after the stoning incident. Five persons, three of them teenage boys, were taken into custody for failure to heed police orders to leave the scene.

Levittown, a city of 15,500 homes was constructed over a three-year period in lower Bucks County on rolling farmland. Until Myers bought his house from the original purchaser, Levittown had been all white.

Fulbright Raps Dulles' Handling Of Egypt Policy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) told the Senate today that, thanks to Secretary of State Dulles, "the Soviet foothold in Egypt has become a hammerlock."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) promptly came to the defense of the administration.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, asserted that U. S. moves in Egypt and the Middle East were not to save Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser but to save the United Nations.

The GOP leader also questioned Fulbright's theme that American withdrawal of an offer to help finance the great Aswan Dam on the Nile River was not in the best interests of the United States.

Fulbright called the withdrawal an "ill-considered decision."

Fulbright said an examination he made of secret State Department documents, made available for a Senate investigation that never came off, convinced him the dam was a sound project.

He offered double-barreled reasons for saying the July 1956 withdrawal of the aid effort hurt the United States:

"First, the withdrawal of the dam offer was the direct cause of the seizure by Nasser of the Suez Canal. This action led, in turn, to the Israeli-United Kingdom-French attack, to the serious deterioration in our relations with leading allies, to the severe oil shortages in Europe, and to economic dislocations in other parts of the world. . . .

"Second, withdrawal of the offer served to increase the influence of the Soviet Union. The Soviet foothold in Egypt has become a hammerlock on a country which otherwise might well have stayed relatively free from influence by the Communist orbit."

Senate Tribute Paid McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was eulogized in the Senate today by friends and adversaries alike. His young widow looked on, weeping, from a seat in the gallery.

It was in this same chamber that funeral services were held after the controversial Wisconsin Republican died May 2. And in this chamber, too, the Senate in 1954 voted to condemn some of the conduct of the senator who once called his activities "McCarthyism, the fight for America."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas said some regarded McCarthy "with adulation" and others "with hate." But McCarthy, he said, "had a quality that compelled respect, even liking, from his strongest adversary."

Prince Charles Will Enter Private School

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Prince Charles is going off next month to the aristocratic boarding school where his father studied.

Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, Prince Philip, picked the Cheam Preparatory School after long consultations.

It won't meet the approval of Lord Altrincham, the new outspoken critic of the Queen.

The 33-year-old journalist-peer had criticized the royal tradition of private education for the heirs. He thinks they should mix with children from all walks of life in schools of the masses.

The 8-year-old Prince, heir to the British throne will leave his Buckingham Palace home for the first time. He'll put on the school cap and blazer and join about 90 other pupils at Cheam, 30 miles from London.

Bomarc Missile In Quantity Production

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Air Force today announced a $139,315,444 contract for "quantity production" of the Bomarc anti-aircraft missile.

The announcement of the big missile order awarded to the Boeing Airplane Co. followed a series of economy decisions by the Pentagon which have resulted in outright cancellations, production stretchouts and postponements for a wide range of aircraft and weapons.

The Bomarc has a range of well over 20 miles and is officially credited with the capability of shooting down enemy aircraft "at a far greater distance than any other missile presently in use in air defense."

Mayor Extinguishes Last Of Baltimore's Gas Street Lights

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14 (AP)—With a twist of his hand, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro today extinguished a Baltimore trademark. He cut off the city's last gas street light and ended 140 years of yellow flickering on white steps.

The ceremony was as brief as it was simple. But to sentimental Baltimoreans, it was another giant step of progress over long-steeped tradition.

The last light to go out was, appropriately, in Little Italy, one of the oldest sections of the city and only a stone's throw from the mayor's home. It was at the corner of Fawn street and Slemmer's alley, a busy intersection when the first gas lamp was lighted in Baltimore in 1817.

It was only three years after crude, giving only a small yellow glow, but they weren't spendthrifts. More followed. By 1880, 4,874 gas lamps and 998 gasoline lamps were in service, with those closest to fire plugs wearing red glass shields. And more were installed as late as 1928.

In 1946, the city began spending three million dollars to change over nearly 17,000 gas streets to electricity. It has been a gradual changeover to avoid mass inconvenience. Today the last one went.

Bay Bridge Toll Cut Talks Slated

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) said today he will meet with other legislators and civic leaders soon to discuss some plan for getting tolls lowered on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge.

"We've got to do something before a rate is established for the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel," he said. "Otherwise we may find that bay bridge users are subsidizing the tunnel."

Phipps said he would ask Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert), Sen. Dean (D-Queen Annes), civic leaders from Queen Annes and Anne Arundel Counties and possibly others to meet with him "some time within the next two weeks."

He said they would map out some course of action to try to persuade the State Roads Commission and bond officials to grant major relief in tolls paid by users of the bay bridge.

The big structure linking Maryland's eastern and western shores has been producing revenues well ahead of estimates since it was opened to traffic in 1952.

Consolidation Of Precincts Needed

The need for consolidation of precinct lines for both city and county elections was illustrated in Tuesday's referendum in Cumberland.

The telephone rang constantly all day in the registration office at City Hall as hundreds of persons called to find out where they voted, or why their names were not listed on the poll books.

Two years ago, there was a move on foot to have the precinct lines in Cumberland coincide with the county lines.

There are many instances where a person is registered in one precinct to vote in a city election, and in another for county and general elections.

And yesterday, Earl E. Manges, president of the Board of Allegany County Election Supervisors, said consolidation is the proper thing.

Keeping one set of registration books would save duplication of equipment, offices, and effort, he added.

"Every one would know where to vote," he declared.

Today, the city keeps one set of registration books for all Cumberland voters, and the county keeps another set at the Court House.

The Mayor and Council, together with City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery, met several times about two years ago with the Election Supervisors in regards to this consolidation.

It became apparent that the city would have to change its code so that the Cumberland precincts would fall in line with county precincts.

The consolidation would require state legislation for the county to change its precinct lines, a City Hall spokesman said yesterday.

With the advent of constitution- erts wear dark, thick robes to insulate their bodies from the sun and wind.

a referendum on a resolution for a charter amendment passed by the Mayor and Council, the consolidation plan was dropped at that time.

Ullery yesterday pointed out that it was known that there would be more petitions, under home rule and the poll-books would be needed to check them to see if the signers are bona fide voters.

While no definite statement was made, it was pointed out by city officials that keeping the poll books at the Court House would cause an inconvenience.

Ullery yesterday said the county and city lines should age as closely as possible. The idea on consolidation has not been given up entirely, he added.

Masonic Group Forms Lodge

A lodge comprised of Masons who in their vocations are connected with any phase of engineering work is being organized in Cumberland.

The charter of Cumberland Council 53, Universal Craftsman Council of Engineers, is open and will remain so until at least 100 members are signed up.

Eugene T. Park, worthy chief, said there are now 62 men in the organization. The charter was presented at a recent meeting in the Moose Home.

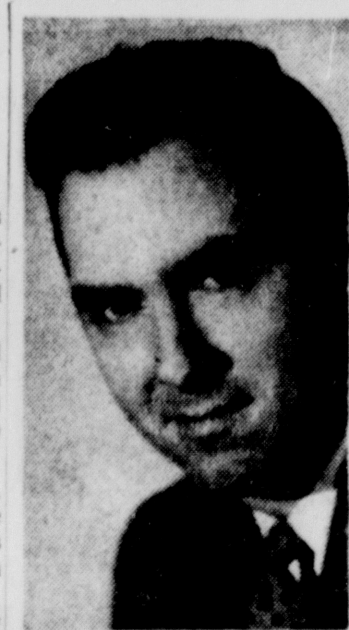

Grand Deputy Lloyd Denton of Euclid Council 14, Baltimore, presented it to Park after degree work was conferred on 17 new members by degree team comprised of members from Washington, Baltimore, New Jersey, New York and Ohio.

Other newly elected officers of Cumberland Council are C. L. Herath, past chief; William Slough, assistant chief; Curtis Sheffler, guard; Richard Kiser, treasurer; Lindsey Bray, secretary; H. M. Pick, financial secretary; Charles Robinson, chaplain, and Harold Bartlett, Selden Harris and Henry Neff, trustees.

The organization is for men from professional engineer to craftsman who work in conjunction with engineers.

The lodge was formed in 1894 by engineers and craftsmen in the Washington and Baltimore area.

FRANK E. GAMBLE

Nebraska Man Named County Music Leader

Appointment of Frank E. Gamble, 39, a native of Nebraska, as supervisor of music education in Allegany County public schools was announced by Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Gamble accepted the position after a conference with Webster Tuesday. He succeeds W. Valgene Routh, who resigned to take a position in the public schools at Allentown, Pa.

Gamble is currently working on his doctorate in music education and expects to receive the degree from Columbia University in a few months. He is working on his dissertation.

During the past school year Gamble taught music at Roaring Brook School at Chappaqua, in Westchester County, N. Y. In 1955-56 he completed the residency requirements at Columbia for his doctorate degree.

After graduating from high school in Wayne, Neb., he attended Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne. He taught school at Creighton and Pierce in Nebraska for three years. He also taught three years in the public schools of Pomona, Calif.

During World War II he was in the Navy and attended the Navy School of Music in Washington. While there he completed work for his master's degree at Catholic University. For six years he taught music in Waynesboro, Va.

Gamble is married and the father of four children. After he obtains housing here his wife and children will come here from Millwood, N. Y., where they now reside.

The playlot will observe picnic day today, and children are to bring their own lunches. Soft drinks will be provided.

A dress rehearsal for those who will be on the playground float in the parade Friday night is scheduled for 10 a. m. that day, according to Mrs. Margaret Buzzard, playfield director.

Senate Approves Naval Radio Unit Construction

FRANKLIN, W. Va.—Approval of a $9,000,000 Navy radio facility in Pendleton County at Sugar Grove was contained in a military construction authorization bill passed by the U.S. Senate, according to Sen. Chapman Revercomb.

The authorization had previously been included in a House of Representatives appropriation bill.

According to present plans the facility is to be built on 1,300 acres of land and eventually will be manned by about 300 communications personnel.

Sen. Revercomb added that the installation, part of the Navy's communication system, is a classified project and no additional information can be revealed at this time.

It is known that representatives of government agencies have been in the Sugar Grove area in connection with the project.

The post office, of Sugar Grove is about 25 miles from Franklin in the southern part of Pendleton Co.

Lions Club Presents Eye Testing Device To Schools

A further service to the community is being provided by the Cumberland Lions Club with the presentation to the Allegany County Board of Education of an optical device by which school children can be screened for possible eye defects.

Robert E. Moore, club president, said the device was purchased from the Bausch and Lomb Optical Company and is known as a school ortho-rater.

It will quickly and accurately determine those children who may have deficient vision.

The tests are for fair point visual acuity, farsightedness, muscle balance at far point, and also for near point. The tests are simple and easily understood. If the child does not pass the suggested test level, there is probably need for a complete eye examination. Only a complete eye examination by a professional man can determine the extent of suspected visual deficiency and the need for corrective lenses.

Moore also reported that during the period between July 1, 1956 and July 1957 the Lions Club paid for 300 eye examinations among children, 79 surgical operations, 125 pairs of glasses and one glass eye.

The committee of the Lions Club which operates the program consists of Glenn K. Davis, chairman; William George, Arthur F. Friedland, Dr. William S. Firey and Howard M. Cooper.

The sight conservation program has been conducted for a number of years and funds realized from the National Sports Car Races held annually at the Cumberland Municipal Airport are used for the program. The Lions are co-sponsors of the event with the Steel Cities Sports Car Club of Pittsburgh.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"One often reads of an auto accident in which the driver has no auto insurance, and couldn't pay a judgment if a court awarded one. The victim then has to pay his own medical expenses — perhaps thousands of dollars. Does your agency have this 'Uninsured Motorist' endorsement, costing only $3.00 that pays the legal liability of an uninsured or hit-and-run driver for injury to any member of the family?"

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Never, never comb your hair when you're dining in a restaurant.

Control Yourself

The witty Roman author Ovid, who was always advising women in the year 1 B. C., gave many hints which could well apply to 1957. He said, "Beauty preparations will give you charms, but the demonstration is unpleasant." He believed that art beautifies the face only if it is invisible and didn't believe women should use the "mixture of doe marrows" in front of other people.

Men, particularly, don't like to see women repairing their make-up or combing their hair in public. Women who fool with their hair often give an impression of fussiness and advancing age. Young girls will win friends and keep them longer, if they leave their tresses alone, too. The career gal keeps makeup supplies in her desk drawer, so she can freshen up during the dates.

Ambassador Of Charm
The clever woman always retires to a powder room for a repair job. Her escort doesn't enjoy seeing these things done but it pleases him when it is done. The time that the upkeep of beauty demands for all parts of make-up should be spent at home in a woman's private boudoir.

Even when travelling, be an ambassador of charm and retire to privacy for make-up. For this purpose, you'll want to pack all your essential beauty preparations and grooming aids together in one kit. And remember to use

$5,000 Bond Set In Rape Case

ROMNEY—Judge Harlan M. Calhoun has signed an order setting bond of $5,000 for Ray H. Raines, 51-year-old Hampshire County man, who was convicted of an attempt to rape a 14-year-old Jersey Mountain girl.

Raines has been held in the County Jail here since his arrest in June. There is a motion for a new trial in his case, but Judge Calhoun has not yet set a date for hearing arguments on the motion.

Raines was originally charged with statutory rape. The jury found him guilty of the lesser count.

New Approach

Liam H. Baer, past state president of the F.O.E., who introduced Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, who gave the invocation.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by the Rotary Club, led in the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the Board of Commissioners of Allegany County, spoke on behalf of that group and congratulated the local Aerie for sponsoring the splendid program and presentation.

He pointed out the monolith will "add to the dignity and sanctity of the grounds," where the "citadel of justice" is located. Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney, spoke briefly on the historical background of Fort Cumberland and referred to General George Washington as a "deeply religious" man. Mr. Fletcher said the monolith will "serve as a guide and inspiration" to those who come to the Court House.

Unveiled By Scouts
The monolith was unveiled by James King and A. J. Kave.

Glenwood Street Project Begins

Work on the curbing and gutting of Glenwood Street, from Oldtown Road to Putnam Street, has been started by the John S. Cook and Son Company, according to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz.

The work was awarded by the Mayor and Council August 5 under a $5,415 contract.

Members of the scout troop. The Lord's Prayer was sung by Charles Albert Ways with Mrs. Kenneth Wolfe as organ accompanist.

Following the dedication address by Judge Harris, a prayer on behalf of the Jewish faith was uttered by Morris Baron, former Juvenile Court magistrate.

Herman L. Myers, program chairman, then spoke briefly and referred to the monolith project as "one of the many civic projects the F.O.E. has undertaken, designed to help all people." He also spoke on behalf of the membership of the local Aerie remarking that the organization is "happy to locate it where the laws are enforced." He read a document which was presented to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The mayor in accepting the monolith referred to the Ten Commandments as the "laws by which we should all try to live" and pointed out it will add to the "moral and spiritual welfare of our community."

The program was brought to a close with benediction by Rev. Arthur Bastress, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Members of the Marine Corps Color Guard were S/Sgt. Robert Grayson, who was in charge, S/Sgt. John Young Jr., Sgt. Gustave Wied and Sgt. Brice L. Bussell.

Other Boy Scouts participating were Herbert Henry, Roy Owens, Glenn Barnhart, Raymond Bennett and Jack Hanekamp. Ernest Fauss, scoutmaster and Ronald Straw, senior patrol leader were also present.

City Budget

personal property of individual and corporations for its $1,177,300 tax levy. Actual assessments were about $3 millions more and brought in some $47,000 more.

Adding the $60,000 to the upcoming budget would mean a total budget of slightly more than $1,700,000 which includes about $250,000 for debt service.

Some Are Musts
Many of the items which make up the new budget will be mandatory.

Among the items which are fixed, and must be met in entirety, are the cost of paying the principal and interest on the city's debt and charges for pensions and social security.

Other items, including garbage collection and street lighting, are set by contract and the city must pay $2,500 a year toward the cost of the Allegany County Juvenile Court by an act of the General Assembly.

The cost of maintaining the flood control structures here and in Ridgeley will go up this year and is a mandatory item.

Wage increases have been asked by city workers. The Mayor and Council has deferred a decision on the amount, pending the outcome of the referendum.

Won't Affect Budget
One additional expense which begins to fall due this year is the cost of operating the city's $2-

100,000 sewage treatment plant, but it will not influence the budget, as costs will be met through charges to users.

Street Commissioner William I. Buchholtz has asked that a budget of $118,000 be adopted to operate the plant.

Charges for sewage treatment will be set to meet the cost of operating the plant and to provide for debt service.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14 (INS)—An airport, I suppose, is as good a place as any to make a deal. Van Heflin was returning from Denver where he went to ballyhoo his latest picture, "3:10 to Yuma," and Harry Cohn was returning from a business trip. They met and discussed "Gun's Alley," another western drama. Result—Van who had a sleeper in "3:10," agreed to report to producer Fred Kohlmar and director Rudy Mate for this Columbia "drammer" in September.

No one at Columbia realized what a box office sleeper they had in "3:10 to Yuma." All agreed that Van's a natural for "Gun's Alley."

Plagued Day And Night with Bladder Discomfort?

Unwise eating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritations—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. to star Sophia Loren for whom it's really tailor-made. She'll star in it in Italy and America after she finishes "Stella."

"I have also written and sold another original, 'The Tourist,' which will be made in England, Spain and America. It's about what happens to people who tour Europe in the summer."

Cy said he can't tell me the story of "Peasant Wife" except to say that it's about a Sicilian girl who comes to America.

Busier than the proverbial one-armed paper hanger is Bob Mitchum serving as his own casting director on "Thunder Road," his independent movie to be made in North Carolina. He had no more than tied up Gene Barry as his co-star in this thriller about a tax man "tracking down moonshiners, than he wired his representative in North Carolina to make a test of Dorothy Brown. If you've missed Dorothy's publicity recently, you must have been having a Rip Van Winkle snooze. She is the 16-year-old hillbilly beauty from the backwoods who is so startlingly beautiful that newsmen from around the country have gone to Carolina to photograph and interview her. An Ava Gardner in the beauty department, if she can act the job is hers.

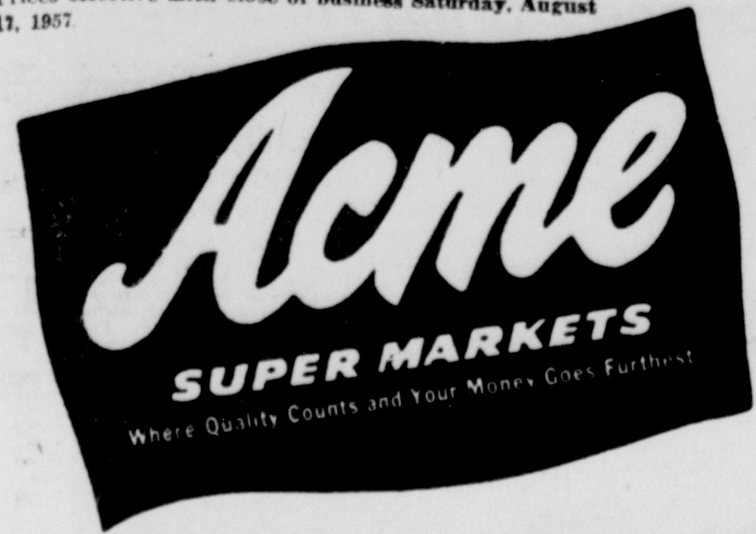

If you have any doubt in your mind of the popularity of young Tommy Sands, you should have been at the Hollywood Bowl when he appeared as part of the entertainment, not even as a star, mind you. Seventeen thousand teenagers went wild over him. Tommy conducted himself so

France's 1955 Tax Rebel All But Forgotten

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS, Aug. 14 (AP)—A tax rebel who threatened to shake the foundations of government in France two years ago is all but forgotten this year.

The name, in case it's slipped your mind, is Pierre "Pierrot" Poujade, the bookseller from the small town of Saint-Cere in southern France who overnight mobilized a million taxpayers into a potent political force and then, almost as quickly, dropped back offstage.

Now only 36, and with Frenchmen as unwilling as ever to pay taxes, Poujade may still make a comeback. The present government's austerity program of higher taxes, fewer imports and all-around belt-tightening may give him a chance to recoup. But so far, there are no signs of it.

Poujade, who aroused thousands to fever-pitch in Paris' mass meetings and bossed a bustling headquarters in the capital, is back in Saint-Cere, turning out handouts again from a mimeograph machine. His name, which for a while dominated newspaper headlines, is hardly ever mentioned in print any more.

Poujade first began organizing tax revolts in 1953, but he did not really attract much attention until the summer of 1955. Then his flamboyant criticism of government ineptitude and administrative waste, barred many a tax collector from the doors of shops held by Poujade admirers. Tax collectors were beaten. In some cases clashes pitted Poujadists against officials sent to inspect shop accounts.

The call for national elections in January of 1956 gave Poujade an occasion to enter politics. Throughout the country he organized cells of his union for the defense of workers, tradesmen and artisans. A similar organization appealed to the farmers for support.

He and his movement amazed political veterans by taking 12 per cent of the total vote and winning 52 seats in Parliament. Poujade looked like the leader of a coming force, one which might control the balance of power in a much-divided Assembly.

But erosion set in. Poujade had not run for office but assumed the role of general staff commander. Poujade members of Parliament were supposed to turn over their salaries to the movement. They were supposed to follow directives without question.

First one, then another, of the more articulate and more independent-minded of the new Poujadist deputies chafed under these restrictions. First one, then another, officially broke with the group, joined other groups or set up shop as "independent - independents." The Poujade strength in Parliament dropped until now it numbers, at best, 20 or 30.

Poujade tried to reverse this trend by entering the lists himself as a candidate for the first time in a by-election earlier this year in a key district of the capital. When the returns came in and showed Poujade soundly trounced, no one was really very surprised. Poujade, the dopesters concluded, had just been another flash in the pan.

Or so the leaders of the older, middle-road parties are hoping.

Doggondest Thing: Charges Against Humphrey Dropped During Hubbub

ORLANDO, Fla., Aug. 14 (AP)—It was the doggondest thing.

There was this hound, part bassett as it turned out, carrying a picket sign saying, "I am sad because some people hate me."

A 9-year-old girl marched with the dog. She carried a sign: "He is my dog. He's very sweet."

was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

The dog's name proved to be Humphrey, the girl's Donna Friedman.

They—and a bunch of neighbor children along with them—were picketing two houses across the street from where they live. Donna said the people in those houses didn't appreciate Humphrey and complained about him.

There was a complaint, all right. Mrs. Ann Kovacs filed it against Donna's father, Julian Friedman, charging him with harboring a vicious dog.

The kids paraded yesterday and again today, Humphrey along with them.

The kids paraded Monday and again yesterday, Humphrey along with them.

Then the police came. And the adults joined in.

Mrs. Kovacs said Humphrey almost bit one of her grandchildren.

She and her next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Marks, also objected that Humphrey messed up their yards.

When Marks saw all the hubbub that resulted — kids picketing, adults arguing, police trying to restore order, news photographers taking pictures and other neighbors coming along to see what it was all about—he commented:

"It's ridiculous. It's fantastic. All this over a dog. We just want him tied up."

That was the basis on which peace was achieved.

Friedman agreed to keep the dog tied or confined in his yard.

The charge of harboring a vicious dog was dropped.

Donna got in the last word. She said, "Humphrey wouldn't hurt a flea. He sleeps with my baby

More Politics In The Kremlin

What has been happening in Russia is, first of all, internal politics. The Soviet Communist system is 40 years old, but it is still so backward in political methods that no orderly changes in the top leadership are possible. The men replaced must be publicly discredited, and some of them must die.

Khrushchev has come out on top but only, if reports from reliable sources can be credited, by wrecking such orderly machinery as the "collective leadership" had been able to devise since Stalin's death. Apparently he overthrew a decision of the ruling Presidium (politburo) by appealing to the central committee of the Communist party and threatening to use the army if it, too, overruled him.

Marshal Zhukov, who was on hand to "deliver" the army in this dramatic crisis, now stands second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet hierarchy.

This is not the end of it. Khrushchev's position seems to be solid at the moment, but the ferment has yet ceased to work. It took Stalin many years to consolidate his own power after Lenin died.

Thousands of the most prominent men in the party had to die first, and Leon Trotsky was hounded about the world and finally assassinated in Mexico because Stalin could not feel safe as long as Trotsky remained alive as a possible focus of opposition.

Can Khrushchev, in the long run, permit Malenkov to live? The future of Zhukov is another big question mark. He could hardly have risen this high without ambition, and any ambitious Number Two is bound to aspire to be Number One.

The struggle continues. Can Khrushchev stay on top?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Not A Teen-Ager

This is as the letter came: "I've written a letter on these days. But I just wonder if you will dare print it. If you do and I hope you do. Please don't use my name. Not that I'm ashamed of a word of it for all its truth. I just don't want to rec insulting letters from our older people."

The lady who writes the attached letter says that she is 38 years old and a mother; "... This older generations make me sick to my stomach running our future Generation down all the time ..."

Then she writes: "... Let me tell you older folks just what I think of you some of you any way did you ever stop and think of the filthy examples you set to-day for our young people to see & hear. For one thing these night clubs they call them. Just places to go and do things in the dark behind your kids backs. Ha! Ha!"

I shall give you no more of this. What I want to point out is that we have had more than a century of public school education in this country, paid out of the pockets of the taxpayer. It is surprising how many letters I receive which contain faulty sentence structure, incorrect spelling, and lack of evidence of reading or of memorizing poetry which gives one a vocabulary. I have one here from a soldier stationed in Washington who believes that General Douglas MacArthur is corny because, I presume, the General writes English. This is what the soldier says:

"Your suggestion that Gen. MacArthur should speak to the American people more often is obviously an attempt to boost phonograph record sales.

"Such 'gems' as 'Old soldiers never die, they just fade away,' and this latest remark '... the earth has spun through the black vacuum of space from the sun ...' are 'gold mines' for the purveyors of trashy music. I am awaiting the release of the latest recording of 'The Black Vacuum Rock ... (mambo)'."

"Please don't assume that I am taking these phrases in their literal sense. I enjoy much of the classic literature which contains the metaphor. I believe that the General is being just a bit too 'corny.'"

Unfortunately, language has gone to pot in this era of rock-n-roll thinking and this young soldier has probably never been required to read the prose of Milton or Carlyle or Macaulay.

The question then arises, in my mind, whether our people are really going to school for knowledge or for attendance. Perhaps mere attendance has some usefulness, for what else would the children do, as they are forbidden by law to work. But it is precisely in these schools of attendance that the youngsters become bored and bothered, get into gangs and sex parties.

When I went to elementary school, decades ago, we had to memorize practically everything. English, for instance, was really a course in memory and now, half a century later, when perhaps I do not remember the name of my next door neighbor, I recall almost perfectly what was implanted in those early years. The interesting fact is that although I was born in the United States, English was not my first language as my parents spoke other tongues; nevertheless I have always earned my living by writing and speaking English.

Education is not a cultivation of prejudices nor the formation of friendships. Education is designed to train the mind, to develop an appreciation of knowledge, to learn of the past, to gain skills according to one's fitness and aptitudes. All the fancy stuff such as social adjustments may be a product of the process of education but they do not make the man or woman.

The engineers shriek that the students do not know enough mathematics; everybody complains about the spelling of the younger generations; it is obviously so that Americanized English has become a jargon in its spoken form and what is called clever writing is the attempt to reproduce on paper the horrible sounds of a corrupted tongue. The soldier who regards a simple sentence of well-written English as corny is a product of inadequate schooling. Had he had the advantage of familiarity with the masters of English prose, he would have found that to which he objects is not "corny" but English—a beautiful language is well used.

Scientists Split On Lung Cancer-Cigaret Relation

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Does cigarette smoking really cause cancer of the lung? Scientists are divided on the subject, and evidently there is even a difference of opinion among the directors of the American Cancer Society as to how much actual proof of a cause-and-effect nature has been adduced.

This correspondent wrote two weeks ago that the statistics with reference to tobacco and lung cancer "may really turn out some day to prove a cause-and-effect relationship, but to date it is only fair to say that no such evidence has yet been produced."

Sends Letter

M. R. Runyon, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society, sends me a letter under date of August 9 in which he says that the case against cigarettes as an important cause of lung cancer rests upon a number of studies in the last 20 years which, when added together, form "a most convincing chain of evidence." He points to the report made by seven prominent scientists, described as "an independent study group on smoking and health" sponsored by the American Cancer Society and other organizations. This group reviewed "all the evidence available" and, on June 7, declared:

"The sum total of scientific evidence establishes beyond reasonable doubt that cigarette smoking is a causative factor in the rapidly increasing incidence of human epidemic carcinoma of the lung."

Mr. Runyon also quotes from the report of a scientific body in Great Britain which, on June 29 last, said:

"Evidence from many investigations in different countries indicates that a major part of the increase (in lung cancer) is associated with tobacco smoking, particularly in the form of cigarettes. In the opinion of the council, the most reasonable interpretation of this evidence is that the relationship is one of direct cause and effect."

This writer did not in his recent dispatch, nor does he now, dispute the right of various scientific groups to bring whatever facts they have gathered to the attention of the public and of Congress, together with any implications or interpretations the American Cancer Society or anybody else may derive from the statistics or the studies.

But it is also a significant fact that Dr. Ian G. MacDonald, director of cancer research at the University of Southern California — who is not only chairman of the committee on cancer research of the American Medical Association but is himself a director of the American Cancer Society—said to a Congressional committee on July 25:

"Although there is an apparent association between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, a review of the total evidence fails to establish a cause-and-effect relationship."

No Sound Basis

"In summary, the total evidence here reviewed fails to establish any sound basis on which a causative influence may be assigned to cigarette smoking in the production of cancer of the lung. As in a majority of human cancers, we have at hand an imposing list of pre-disposing factors, no one of which is of more than ephemeral status. The total problem of cancer in homo sapiens from the standpoint of its basic cause remains as much an impenetrable mystery as in the days of Aesculapius."

The surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service, Leroy E. Burney, in a statement issued on July 12, does not go as far as the American Cancer Society's study group in claiming that the scientific evidence "establishes beyond reasonable doubt that cigarette smoking is a causative factor" in lung cancer. Surgeon General Burney says:

"In the light of these studies, it is clear that there is an increasing and consistent body of evidence that excessive cigarette smoking is one of the causative factors in lung cancer."

W. Va. Congressman's Argument Over School Aid Bill Explained

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — As one who has been called names by Presidents, I suppose I should get sardonic satisfaction from the fact that President Eisenhower was called a "lousy liar" by Congressman Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia. But I didn't. Name-calling in American politics doesn't pay.

However, the issue which caused Congressman Bailey to pop off—namely aid to education—is one of the most important to the nation, and if you know Congressman Bailey's role in the battle for better education, you can understand why he lost his temper.

It so happens that Bailey has been one of the most valiant and faithful fighters for schools in the entire history of Congress. For seven years he has struggled to pass a school bill. At the climax of this struggle, just as the aid to education bill was about to come up for a vote, he saw the President do two things which the public didn't know about.

1.—Ike called off his press conference the day before the school bill vote so he would not have to express an opinion on it.

2.—The President also suppressed a vitally important report urging Federal aid to colleges just before the school bill vote.

Many months earlier, the President had appointed a "Committee on Education, Beyond the High School." Chairman of the Committee was a conservative Republican and J. P. Morgan director, Devereaux Josephs, chairman of the New York Life Insurance Company. This is not exactly a Communist organization and Mr. Josephs is not unfriendly to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

This Ike-appointed Committee had finished a painstaking report which was marked for public release July 28—the Sunday before the House was scheduled to vote on school construction.

While the report did not specifically support the school construction bill, it did make alarming statements about our lagging education.

It cited an "unparalleled demand by all Americans for better and better education. American education, it said, has entered a 'revolutionary phase.'"

"Without realizing it, we have become a society of students," said this report, headed by one of the most conservative businessmen in New York.

White House Suppression

Then, after outlining the tremendous need for education, the Committee appointed by Eisenhower proceeded to criticize the government for failure to make known the needs of aid for education.

"We have been struck above all else," said the President's Committee, "by the astounding lack of accurate, consistent, and up-to-date facts, and by how little this nation knows about its educational enterprise."

This report, which would have helped to enlighten Congress on educational needs just before it was to vote on the aid to education bill, was all ready for publication July 28. Suddenly the President held it up. The report was suppressed and the school bill defeated.

After that, the President announced to the public that he had done everything in his power to support the school bill. And after that, Congressman Bailey of West Virginia called him "a lousy liar."

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Women strike matches away from themselves, men the other way. Women bite a piece of chocolate candy in half to see what is inside before eating it. Men eat the whole piece immediately. Women squeeze toothpaste tubes from the middle. Men squeeze them from the bottom. The women do not put the cap of tube back on. Women look at their fingernails by holding the hand straight out, palm down. In surveying his fingernails a man bends his fingers over toward him. So claims a conscientious student of Horses and Women who has been checking on the differences between men and women. I have checked his findings. They are amazingly accurate. I am getting in touch with him immediately to find out what he knows about horses.

What two New York churches were involved in the incident which led to one being ever after referred to as "The Little Church Around The Corner"? So queries a Bostonian. The churches were The Church of Atonement, at Madison Ave. and 28th St. and the Church of the Transfiguration, 1 East 29th St. Rev. William T. Sabine was rector of former. Dr. George Hendric Houghton of the latter. The Rev. Sabine, according to Joseph Jefferson, declined to hold a funeral service for George Holland because he had been an actor but suggested it might be arranged at "a little church around the corner." The funeral service for George Holland was read by Rev. George Houghton at the Church of the Transfiguration on Dec. 22, 1870.

Queries from clients. Q. Is Robert W. Service who wrote "The Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGrew" still living? A. Yes, sir. Mr. Service, now 83 years old, lives in Monte Carlo. Q.

What treatment is given to a person who developed a fungous infection of the intestine after being given an antibiotic?

Certain antibiotics kill the usual intestinal organisms, which allows yeast and fungous cells to go on a rampage. This leads to diarrhea, abdominal distress, and rectal itching. Nystatin, a new product, is said to be helpful in fungal infections of this type.

HEART DISEASE

C. W. writes: What is congestive heart failure?

REPLY

The heart is not capable of delivering its normal quota of blood, and as a result the lungs become congested and fluid accumulates in the liver and lower legs.

TOMORROW — Maladjusted children.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Note 1—The report on education was later published by the White House August 11, and while the White House will doubtless deny that publication was delayed, they will send you a copy if you write and ask for it.

Note 2—Bailey was not the only one critical of Ike's stand on the school bill. Vice President Nixon himself made caustic, though private comment regarding Eisenhower's wishy-washy stand on both school aid and the civil rights bills. It was the first time Nixon has been heard to use harsh words about the President.

Probing Business

If you're a Senator investigating labor, or if you're a Senator investigating big business it makes a lot of difference.

In order to investigate either group after the Senate convenes every morning, you have to get permission of the Senate leadership, because Senate committees are not supposed to sit while the Senate is in session.

Last week an interesting thing happened when Sen. Estes Kefauver was probing the high cost of living and had Roy Blough, fast-talking head of U. S. Steel on the witness stand to ascertain why U. S. Steel contributed to inflation by boosting prices. Naturally, such important testimony as U. S. Steel's could not be concluded in a single morning, so when the Senate convened at 12 noon, Kefauver asked permission to meet in the afternoon.

Senator Knowland of California, the GOP leader, promptly objected. He had been tipped off by Sen. Everett Dirksen, Republican of Illinois, the member of Kefauver's Committee who asked helpful questions of glib steel mogul Blough.

So the Kefauver Committee probing U. S. Steel's inflationary action didn't meet that afternoon. But down the hall from Kefauver's empty room, a jam-packed Senate Rackets Committee got permission to continue its more popular job of probing labor.

Baering Down On The News

Us old drafters of Mr. Pershing's hob-nailed tourist agency had all the best of it.

We got the notification on a postcard marked private. That was our rank.

Black Jack gave us our choice. We could say yes and go. Or we could say no and go.

That was as fair as a liner over second. If you had any special skills and talents they handed you a shovel.

At the finish they said nothing was too good for us. That's what we got.

Today you can ask for occupational deferment if you chalk cues for short-armed pool sharks.

Best thing about the old draft laws is we knew how we stood. Heels together and toes out.

Preparation Needed For An Enjoyable Old Age

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Everyone should prepare for a healthier and happier old age, now that our life expectancy is getting longer and longer. On reaching age 40, we should take stock of our habits and discard those that are likely to impair health. This is the only way to add life to years and to avoid the ailments that accompany the later decades.

An elderly reader disagrees. He thinks that most writers on the problems of the aged start at the wrong end.

"They begin at a time when age has already ravaged the human organism whereas they should start at the cradle. Our educational system is at fault here as corrective teaching should originate at the kindergarten level. Stress should be placed on securing competent teachers and paying them top salaries rather than the system that now prevails of paying more to the higher grades, especially those with a master's degree."

"What is needed are teachers who are imbued with a love of children and an earnest desire to promote their welfare. Primarily, they should inculcate the love of reading, and this valuable asset should be promoted through all grades. Thus, we will be able to overcome the curse of the near illiterates who grow to maturity with empty minds. Lacking proper education, they lack the mentality for self-containment and matter prevails over spirit."

"My wife and I are bookish and are sufficient unto ourselves. We have no need for TV or movies. We have been moderate eaters and never, in our 55 years of married life, had the need for medical services except when our seven children were born. We are full of energy and do not know what it means to have that tired feeling."

I'll buy this advice. Those who teach grade school should be well qualified because they are training children during their most formative years. The right start will help youngsters to grow and develop into able, self-sufficient men and women.

But youth is not health-conscious unless an ailment or accident interferes with their pleasures, appearances, or future. It is only on reaching middle-age that the wisdom of regularity and moderation becomes apparent.

Early in his career as a magazine editor, the late Harold Ross issued a stern edict that no more private telephone calls were to be made or received by members of the staff during working hours. In fact, he went so far as to have a public coin booth installed in the reception lounge. The next morning he found the booth torn from its roots and on its back in his own private office.

Stretched out inside it, a calla lily clutched in his hand and a wreath on his brow, lay James Thurber, the famous funster.

Burch School PTA Property Is Burglarized

State Police Probe $700 Loss

MOOREFIELD — Thieves broke into Burch school house some time between Thursday night August 1 and Monday night August 5, taking and destroying property estimated worth $700 which belonged to the Burch PTA.

All the silverware used in the hot lunch program, the china-ware, a case of catsup, 100 pounds of beans, a case of shortening, sugar, flour and other items.

The theft was not discovered until Monday night when Alec Welton opened the building to hold a Veterans Farm Training class. Authorized persons had been in the building the previous Thursday.

Trooper Jack Baker and Chief Gil Robinette investigated the theft and are still working on the case. One of two large pressure cookers was left outside the school, apparently it was too large to cram in a car or the thieves were frightened away before they had a chance to load it. No insurance was carried for burglary.

The Burch Parent-Teacher Association will hold a Festival at Asbury Grave in Bean Settlement Saturday night August 24 to raise funds to start replacing the loss of the equipment. An appeal has been made to the public for donations.

Fire Damages Crites Tavern In Hardy Co.

MOOREFIELD — Crites Tavern just north of Moorefield was badly damaged by fire from an unknown cause at dawn Friday morning. The blaze started in a small storage room in the back part of the center of the building.

Loss to the building and contents was estimated between $6,000 and $7,000. The intense heat of the blaze cracked and damaged the concrete block walls and most of the roof will have to be replaced. Equipment damaged or destroyed included a refrigerator, a hot water heater, an air conditioning unit, booths and tables and counters, pinball machines, ranges and coolers. Two automobile tires in the storage room were burned and the dense smoke from the burning rubber blackened the entire building.

Earnest Crites, proprietor of the tavern, started work immediately rebuilding and will reopen within a few weeks. His residence, immediately to the rear of the tavern was saved from damage by prompt work on the part of the members of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company.

Three Sets Of Twins Typify Tri-State Interest In Cumberland Fair

Three sets of twins, sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Miltenberger, Ridgeley, W. Va., who will exhibit at the Cumberland Fair. All belong to 4-H Clubs in Cumberland. Left to right are Paul and Pauline, 15, Joan and Jean, 10, and Lois and Louis, 16. Pauline and Lois will enter calves in boys' competition at the fair, and Pauline is being urged by the family to enter tractor-driving competition with boys.

West Virginia's Miltenberger Family Is Among Major Participants In Cumberland's Annual Fairs

The twin interests of Maryland and Pennsylvania, as expressed through the 5,000 entries of 1,000 exhibitors in competition for $11,000 in cash premiums at the Cumberland Fair, opening next Monday, are typified in the activities of three sets of twins, sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Miltenberger, dairy and truck farmers of near Ridgeley, W. Va.

Lois and Louis, 16, Paul and Pauline, 15, and Joan and Jean, 10, are all members of Cumberland 4-H Clubs. The two older sets of twins are successful Cumberland Fair exhibitors, and, along with other Miltenberger children, have brought home an average of $400 a year in fair premiums — and they've won enough blue ribbons to make a silk dress for a Holstein cow.

State To Name Supervisor For W.Va. Merit System

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 14 (AP)—The first step toward establishing an eligibility list from which to make an appointment as State Merit System supervisor was announced today.

Mrs. Louise Stanley, acting supervisor, said an examination would be held to establish an eligibility list.

Candidates for examination must be college graduates with six years of recent employment in a public or private personnel program with supervisory responsibilities, or college teaching, or an administrator in an educational organization. Only West Virginia residents under 56 will be eligible. The post carries a salary range of $7,200 to $8,400 a year.

While the Miltenbergers join twin brothers, but they have twin hands across the Potomac with interests within themselves. They belong to girls' 4-H Clubs, but since there is no calf club for exhibitors in competition for $11,000 in cash premiums at the Cumberland Fair, opening next Monday, they just belong to a boys' club in Cumberland.

Both are previous winners in calf competition with boys at the Cumberland Fair, and last year E. Miltenberger, dairy and truck farmers of near Ridgeley, W. Va., respectively, El-dairy cow at the Mineral County, W. Va., Fair. Paul and Pauline, 15, and Joan and Jean, 10, are all members of Cumberland 4-H Clubs. The two older sets of twins are successful Cumberland Fair exhibitors, and, along with other Miltenberger children, have brought home an average of $400 a year in fair premiums — and they've won enough blue ribbons to make a silk dress for a Holstein cow.

Brewer Gains 14th Victory Over Champs

Williams Belts 31st Homer; Record 36,207 See Game

BOSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Ted Williams, answering the challenge of Mickey Mantle, belted his 31st homer of the season and made a vital throw from left field today as he headed Boston's 6-4 victory over the New York Yankees.

The 33-year-old slugger's three-run blast into the left field screen in the second inning was the crusher.

A season's record crowd of 36,207 jammed Fenway park to watch Williams defend his American League batting lead against the 25-year-old Mantle. They were not disappointed.

Williams also hammered out a single in his three trips which increased his margin to eight percentage points—390 to 382—over Mickey.

The Yankee flash singled his first trip, then was retired three times in succession. Mantle had won last night's game with a two-run homer.

Yankee veteran outfielder Hank Bauer drove in three New York runs on his 13th homer and a single. Don Larsen, who gave only three hits in seven innings of relief, singled for his third straight blow in the ninth to score the final Yankee run.

Tom Brewer of the Red Sox, credited with his 14th triumph of the year, yielded 15 hits in 8 2-3 innings but did not allow a walk and was aided by three double plays and two putouts on outfield throws.

Mike Fornieles relieved Brewer after Larsen's single.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Twenty-one-year old Dick Drott shut out a St. Louis threat by striking out the side in the ninth inning today to preserve the Chicago Cubs' 3-1 fifth straight victory over the sinking Redbirds.

The defeat was the eighth straight for St. Louis which fell seven games behind Milwaukee's pace-setting Braves. The Cardinals have scored only 11 runs over that stretch. Their only run today came on Drott's balk.

Joe Cunningham, moved into rightfield today in Manager Fred Hutchinson's line up shake-up, opened the Cardinal ninth by drawing a walk. Shortstop Al Dark doubled, sending Cunningham to third. Umpire Bill Jackowski called a balk on Drott which enabled Cunningham to score and Dark to move to third.

Gifford Hurls No-Hit Game In Chair Loop

VFW Defeats Caseys, By 15-1; Elks Win

Tom Gifford hurls a five-inning no-hitter against the Knights of Columbus yesterday at East Side as the VFW walloped the Caseys, 15-1, in a Rocking Chair League encounter.

Gifford lost his shutout in the first inning when a pair of walks, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly accounted for the K. of C. run. He walked four and struck out one in the game which was called at the end of five innings because of darkness.

Chug Aman smashed a homer, double and single to pace the 18-hit attack unleashed by the Vets against two Casey hurlers. Jack Martin chipped in with a double and two singles and Fred Comer collected three bingles for the winners.

In another Chair tilt at Allegheny field the Elks chalked up their 19th victory with a 4-1 decision over Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Dick Klavuhn tossed a four-hitter, all singles, to stifle the Pittsburgh bats. John Cox banged out a pair of doubles to pace the Elks' attack against Bill Thompson.

Rock Ingram starred at third base for the losers while John Gorman made several nice catches at shortfield for the Elks. The scores:

AT EAST SIDE:	ab	h	bb	ch
VFW	550	50	15	18
K. of C.	160	0	1	0
Gifford and Morgan, Gray, Loibel (3) and Harden, LP—Gray, HR—Aman (VFW). (Called end of 5 innings, darkness.)

AT ALLEGANY:

Pitts. Plate	001 000 0-1	4 4
Elks	001 100 x-4	8 0

W. Thompson and Red Ingram. Klavuhn and Pence.

Rec Tennis Tourney Set

Players Register At Playgrounds

All local boys and girls desiring to play in the City Recreation junior championships should register their names this week with the leader of their nearest playground or with L. E. Van Sant, tennis director.

Next week will be devoted to securing a boy and girl champion in three age groups, 12 and 13 years; 14 and 15, and 16 and 17 division.

Winners in these groups will be decided in four sections of the city; the Dingle courts on West side, Fort Hill High School courts, North End playground courts, and the Gephart playground courts.

The best doubles teams will also be decided next week in each section.

The week of August 26th all the boys and girls winning on their courts will meet in tournament play for the city championships.

Hermans, K-C Cop Opening City Playoffs

Germans Lose, 3-1; Old Exports Blanked

The Hermans and the Knights of Columbus captured opening games of the semi-final playoffs yesterday in the City Softball League.

The Hermans trounced the Old Export, 18-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Junior Brelsford at Post's field while the Knights edged the Old Germans, 3-1, at Stitches field.

Bruce Linn pounded out a homer, Don Basilio had a three-bagger, double and single and Brelsford collected three singles in a 19-hit barrage against the Old Export team. Dave Ritter's double and Jim Eckard's single were the only hits allowed by Brelsford.

In the other best-of-three series Rick Harris' two-bagger brought home the winning run for the Caseys in the fourth inning after Don Farrell stole home with their first tally in the third frame.

Mickey Clark's double scored an insurance run in the fifth inning for the victors. George Harris bested Bob Hook in the mound duel although touched for eight hits while Hook allowed only five. Bobby Christ had two North End playground courts, singles for the Knights while Galen McGregor and Bump Barton each collected two bingles for the Germans. The scores:

Boggess will handle his first game in Milwaukee Friday.

for your lighter moments

Old Export! it's lighter

The beer you like to drink with friends. Shooting the breeze with Mac and a guy from the plant. Where can you do it better than in your favorite tavern. A couple of rounds apiece and before you know it you've covered everything from the hydrogen bomb to the next world series.

Yes, lighter Old Export fits right in at lighter moments like these. Makes 'em more enjoyable—because lighter Old Export's a more enjoyable beer! It tastes better . . . feels smoother . . . refreshes without filling. Try some and see.

The bidding:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 spade Pass
1 spade Pass 1 spade Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of hearts.
This column has frequently taken to task players who fail to draw trumps promptly, but today we have a declarer who sinned in the other direction. A short delay of the "trump drawing act" would have saved him many points.

The contract was sound enough, but it seems to us that South showed a distinct lack of curiosity in the bidding. There are any number of hands rating only a single raise which might fit well enough to produce a slam, and we would be inclined to make at least one probing bid to allow for the possibility.

West opened the queen of hearts, which South took and promptly drew trumps. He proceeded with the establishment of his side suit, only to find that he must lose two tricks to West, and when East showed up with the club ace, two tricks had to be given up in that suit, and the contract went on the rocks.

South stoutly maintained that he was the victim of hard luck when he found unfavorable distributions in both hearts and clubs. It must be conceded that the fates had not shown him any special consideration, but, on the other hand, by careful manipulation he could have ridden home a winner.

Since declarer appeared to be relying on a normal break in hearts, he might as well have tested the suit before drawing trumps. After winning the opening lead, his best play was to lead one trump to dummy's queen and follow up with a small heart. If all goes well, South cashes the king of hearts, gives up a heart, and pulls trumps. As it happens, East is unable to follow to the second heart. If he discards, South cashes the king, gives up a heart, and subsequently ruffs a heart with one of dummy's high trumps, establishing the suit. If East chooses to ruff, South wins the return, draws one more trump, cashes the king of hearts and ruffs a heart.

Television And Radio
by John Crosby

By JEAN KERR
Milder, Much Milder

While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be conducted by guest writers. Today's contributor is magazine writer and playwright Jean Kerr.

I never feel that we see the same television that other people see. For one thing, we have one of the first sets ever built, which means that if you squat so close to it that your knees rub against the dial buttons you can almost see Ed Sullivan. We cling to it, all ten inches of it, because we imagine that any minute now it will be valuable as a collector's item. (Pull out those tubes, plant it with philodendron, and there's your conversation piece). Also, it seems as if every time we save up $229 for a bigger set, we use the money to take a trip someplace where there is no television.

But the fact that our reception is poor is the least of it. What worries me, and gives me this feeling of being out of touch culturally, is that I never seem to see the programs that other people see. At cocktail parties, when I chatter about Lassie or Robin Hood or Disneyland, I get nothing but the blankest stares. You won't believe it, but some of these people have never even heard of Oswald Rabbit. I mean, what do you suppose they look at? I don't pretend to have watched every minute of these shows, but let me tell you when you have to run out to the den five times in a single half hour to tell those kids for heaven's sake to lower that thing, you pick up a lot. That Lassie, for instance, should be an example to us all. What a head that dog has on her shoulders!

It's clear, then, that I'm not qualified to talk about television at all; but like so many unqualified people I do have opinions—particularly about commercials.

Now I learned way back at my mother's knee that you can't stay tuned to that station for another full hour of glorious entertainment if somebody doesn't pay the bills. So I expect that nice young announcer to appear and smile in a way that will show every one of his expensive new porcelain crowns. I know he is going to take a puff of that cigarette and raise his eyes heavenwards as though he were in the throes of a mystical experience. Indeed it will be only with great difficulty that he pulls himself together sufficiently to confide in us all that "Wonderboroughs taste milder because they are milder." This seems fair enough to me. The announcer is a salesman and he is trying to sell cigarettes.

What disturbs me is when, instead of the announcer, we are given a pair of young people necking in a canoe. Eventually the boy stops nibbling at the girl's earlobes long enough to murmur huskily, "Darling, have a Wonderborough, they're milder because they are made only from the tender center leaf."

"Yes, dear," she purrs back, "and did you know that more people are switching to Wonderboroughs than to any other leading brand?"

Now I ask you—what are we supposed to think? I know what I think: those two kids are sick. And what really worries me is that shaky romance. Any one of these days he is going to leave that girl for another cigarette.

An even more obvious mistake, it seems to me, is the practice of always raising the volume for the commercial. (Now I don't want to get any statistics from sound engineers. All I know is that the voice that says "Ladies, find out why women everywhere..." certainly sounds louder than anything that went before it.) I don't know what it's like in other families, but we finally had to put a rug in the television room because there were so many falls from people slipping on the bare floor in that mad dash to lower the set as soon as the commercial came on. Maybe somewhere in the country there is a viewer who reacts to that sudden rush of sound by saying "Darling, do watch this, isn't it fantastic what that razor will do to that hidden beard?" Maybe. But what I really imagine is that most people will watch the commercial only if it doesn't require any particular effort. If they have to get up and lower the volume, someone in the room is going to say "Listen, while you're on your feet, see what Steve Allen is doing, or, better still, turn it off."

City Budget Talks Will Begin Today

Referendum Limits Size Of Tax Levy

The Mayor and Council will sit down this morning to begin working out a budget for the current fiscal year.

The crushing defeat by the voters of a proposal to boost the tax rate limit from $1.25 to $1.50 means that the Mayor and Council will have to fit city expenditures into a budget which is only slightly higher than last year's $1,654,530.

Mayor Roy W. Eves reported that the budget talks will begin this morning at 9 o'clock in his office.

Attending will be the Mayor and Council, City Attorney Thomas B. Finan and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Mayor Eves said another session will probably be held Friday.

Deadline Is Near

The deadline for setting the levy is August 25, and it must be established at a regular or special meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Considerable spadework on the budget has already been completed by Mr. Gibson.

The last of the budgets, delayed until the outcome of the referendum was known, were handed to the city auditor yesterday.

The city's financial situation for the current fiscal year is far from desperate, as about $237,000 was left over as the books for the 1956-57 year closed June 30.

The surplus, Mr. Gibson explained recently, will allow the city to make about the same budget as last year, when a $1,654,530 levy was adopted.

Neared Tax Limit

At the time, Mr. Gibson explained the surplus will leave about $60,000 more money to add to the 1957-58 budget, and that any radical changes in services this year would only mean dropping to a lower level for the 1958-59 fiscal year.

To make the 1956-57 budget, the city used all but five mills of the $1.25 limit set by the General Assembly a number of years ago on the amount of property taxes the city could levy.

Last year the city levied on $73,500,000 of real estate and

Governor Receives Town's Key

Governor Cecil Underwood, second from left, West Virginia's first Republican governor in 24 years, got bi-partisan greetings when he visited Berkeley Springs in nearby Morgan County yesterday afternoon. Presenting him a key to Berkeley Springs is Mayor William H. Hunter, the town's Democrat mayor. The key was made from the famed Washington Elm, planted in the Town of Bath by George Washington. At the left is Herbert Dux, an official of the Pennsylvania Glass Sand Corporation, who handed the chief executive a bag of sand for his children. At the right is Richard M. Johnson, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of Morgan County. Gov. Underwood will visit Berkeley and Jefferson counties today.

Driving License Suspension Plan Wins Support

Two State Agencies To Back Program

BALTIMORE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Two State agencies today agreed to seek passage of a law automatically suspending the driving licenses of motorists who twice violate traffic laws.

An agreement to back the proposal was reached at a meeting of James B. Monroe, commissioner of motor vehicles; Maj. William H. Weber, State Police executive officer; Del. Edgar P. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the committee on motor vehicle laws; Del. Thomas Hatem (D-Harford), and Sen. George B. Rasin (D-Kent).

Under the proposal, a motorist convicted for a second time of operating a vehicle in a hazardous manner would have his license automatically suspended for 15 days.

Conviction on a third violation within a year would result in automatic revocation of the license.

While the violations which would result in suspension or revocation have not been spelled out, they would not include minor infractions such as a burned out tail light.

The proposal was a compromise from Monroe's original suggestion for an automatic 30-day suspension after two convictions. The lesser period was decided on after committee members expressed the feeling that a 30-day period might work considerable hardship.

They also said it would be difficult to get the more stringent bill through the Legislature.

13's Turn Up For Buchholtz

It was a day of 13's for Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz Tuesday.

He recalled noting that he was the 13th person to vote Tuesday at 7:55 a. m. at SS. Peter and Paul Hall.

He said he recalled at the time that the day was August 13.

After voting, Mr. Buchholtz stopped in at the City Warehouse to discuss the day's schedule with Harry Rodenhouse.

As he left the foreman's office he noticed hanging on the door an old street sign—not from Cumberland—with the lettering South 13th Street.

Mr. Buchholtz said he is not superstitious and felt that the flock of 13's must indicate the start of some good luck.

Ross Shaw, Oldtown, recalled that Col. Thomas Cresap helped build Fort Frederick in Washington County before coming to Oldtown to build Fort Skipton.

The Oldtown scouts will explore the restored fort and Fort Frederick State Park, which contains trees of 27 different species.

W.Va. Governor Visits Area; Blasts Senators

Berkeley Springs Gives Him Key

By EDWARD L. SMITH

BERKELEY-SPRINGS, W. Va., Aug. 14 (AP)—Gov. Underwood, after sharply attacking Eastern West Virginia's two state senators, arrived in this area this afternoon for a two-day good will tour.

The visit to West Virginia's three most easterly counties—Morgan, Berkeley and Jefferson—was planned, Underwood said earlier, because the Eastern Panhandle is so far from Charleston that "the people there feel many times that they are left out of state affairs."

The governor, accompanied by 15 state officials and a half-dozen newsmen, flew to Martinsburg from Charleston shortly after noon.

This district's two senators, Senate President Ralph J. Bean, (D-Hardy) and Majority Leader Clarence Martin (D-Berkeley), both led a delay in the Senate in confirming Underwood's list of 100 appointments at the special session Aug. 5.

Without specifically naming Bean or Martin, Underwood attacked the 16 Democratic senators in the Legislature as obstructionists because they postponed confirmation until January.

Underwood and his institutions commissioner, Theodore T. Dorman, topped off a 90-degree afternoon by taking baths at the state-owned sanitarium here, in addition to visiting the institution, the governor's party inspected the Air National Guard installation under construction at Martinsburg, Cacapon State Park, and the Morgan County War Memorial Hospital.

At the hospital, Berkeley Springs Mayor William H. Hunter presented the governor with a wooden key to the town and a bag of sand from the area for the governor's children. The governor also collected a large peach, a product of the area, on his arrival at the airport.

This is the first time that Underwood has visited the Eastern Panhandle as governor. He last came through here during his fall campaign when he spoke along with Vice President Nixon at Martinsburg. Several scheduled stops on a later campaign helicopter tour were cancelled because of bad weather.

The trip from Charleston to Martinsburg, 350 miles by car, was made in about 1 1/2 hours today by the three planes carrying the governor's party.

Boys Hear Lecture On Small Arms Use

Staff Sgt. John L. Young Jr. and Tech Sgt. Carl G. Luiz, members of the inspector-instructor staff of the Sixth Special Marine Corps Infantry Company here, lectured youths attending the annual Sunshine Camp sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club.

The two members of the local unit demonstrated the small arms employed by the Marine Corps with safety measures and handling of weapons the main topics.

The 45 caliber pistol, 30 caliber M-1 rifle, 30 caliber automatic rifle, 30 caliber light machine gun and 3.5 rocket launcher were shown and demonstrations were given on rifle grenade firing and rifle and machine gun firing.

Each boy was given an opportunity to fire the 30 caliber machine gun with blank ammunition. Some 25 boys were present at the camp for the two-week stay.

Monolith Is Unveiled

John Snyder Appointed Allegany Guidance Leader

The appointment of two Allegany County men to teaching positions in public schools has been announced by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

John Raymond Snyder, LaVale, has been appointed guidance counselor at Allegany High School and will succeed William J. Donahue, who filled that position for the past two years.

Mr. Donahue has resigned to accept a position as St. Michael's High School principal in Talbot County. A graduate of Allegany High School in 1939, Mr. Snyder received his bachelor of science degree in 1953 from most easterly counties—Morgan, Berkeley and Jefferson—was planned, Underwood said earlier, because the Eastern Panhandle is so far from Charleston that "the people there feel many times that they are left out of state affairs."

For the past four years he taught at Oldtown High School and was instructor in mathematics and guidance. In the other appointment, Edgar Lee Hounshell, of 79 Frost Avenue, Frostburg, has been named to the position vacated by Mr. Snyder.

At Oldtown High Mr. Hounshell will teach junior high mathematics. He was graduated from Allegany High School in 1947 and received his bachelor of science degree in junior high education in 1957 at Frostburg State Teachers College.

He did his practice teaching at Northern High School in Garrett County and at Valley High School in Lonaconing. Mr. Hounshell served two years in the U. S. Marine Corps, one of which was spent in Korea.

News Assists TV Actress Recover Book

The Cumberland News rates an assist for helping Miss Jeff Donnell of Baltimore, George Gobel's television "wife," recover her lost address book containing private phone numbers of a number of Hollywood celebrities.

Donald Kirkley, television editor of the Baltimore Sun, wrote a column last week explaining that he learned while talking with Miss Donnell in New York that she lost the address book on the East Side of Cumberland near a phone booth, where she had made a call to Towson. She was driving through here.

He sent a copy of the column to The News which ran a brief account about the loss August 8 with Miss Donnell's summer address at Harwichport, Mass. William Woltz, a construction worker who lives at 813 Yale Street, found the book about a month ago but didn't know to whom it belonged. When he read last Thursday's account he knew the book belonged to the actress and mailed it to her. He had found it on Shade's Lane.

Officials Visit Training Schools

Magistrate Fred H. Anderson of Juvenile Court and John H. Jeffries, Juvenile Court probation officer, returned home Saturday evening after touring the state's juvenile training schools in the Baltimore vicinity.

The trip was the first for Magistrate Anderson since he took office in May.

He said the tour provided him with a better insight of the purposes, facilities and organization of the schools and he felt the trip would resolve in a better and closer cooperation with the authorities of the schools.

Mr. Anderson and Mr. Jeffries visited Montrose School for Girls, Rosewood State Training School, Maryland Training School for Boys and the House of the Good Shepherd.

New Approach To Juvenile Problem Cited

Monolith Given City By Local Eagles

A new approach to the juvenile delinquency problem through efforts of the Youth Guidance Commission fostered by the Fraternal Order of Eagles was cited last night by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris during a ceremony on the Court House lawn.

The occasion was the presentation to the City of Cumberland by Aerie 245, FOE, a monolith on which the Ten Commandments are inscribed. Judge Harris pointed out that through the commission on the fraternal organization "is taking the lead in turning the spot light on the Ten Commandments."

"It has been in the vanguard in proposing and urging much of the good and progressive legislation in the Congress in recent years," he said. "If this endeavor 'makes the youth and, incidentally some adults, more conscious of the divine laws, it will be worth the effort and expense. If it does any good in this respect, I would be in favor of erecting such a stone in front of every Court House in the country."

Entitled To Good Home

"Every boy and girl is entitled to a good mother and a sensible father. The influence of the home must be supplemented by the influence of the school," the judge said.

According to Judge Harris, "the influence of the home and the school must be further supplemented by the influence of the church. 'If we can't get them into the church, the next best thing may be to turn the public light on the Ten Commandments.'"

"Presented to Moses on Mount Sinai, and wrought by the hand of God on two stone tablets, the Ten Commandments stand today after more than 3,500 years as God's law to the human race," he pointed out.

The judge asserted that "all the laws of the country dealing with human relations are based upon the Ten Commandments. Contrary to our man made laws, they have withstood the test of time, without reason for change or amendment."

In a setting of peace and serenity, the program was held as dusk closed in on the Queen City. Master of ceremonies was C. Williams.
